Hanging over the water as it is being constructed, this is how the bailey bridge looked on Friday. It wasn't like this for long. The work is going quickly, and apparently is being completed ahead of schedule. On Tuesday night it was open to traffic, although some work still needs to be done to the approaches and sidewalks, which may mean that it will be closed for a period as expected. For more on its construction, see page 10.

At Browndale

Students pay for schooling

Browndale Schools have told the Haliburton County Board of Education that special education students attending Browndale classes from other group homes in the county will have to pay for the use of the Browndale building. Teachers at Browndale building are paid by the Ontario Government through the Haliburton Board of Education.

Director of Education, J.D. Hodgson, is concerned about three boys from the Anson House Home, who have been told that they must pay to attend school.

Browndale teachers are attached to the staff of Archie Stouffer Public School and are under direction of the principal, Stuart Baker. A board of education can receive government funds to hire teachers to work in group homes that are under the Ministry of Health. Two years ago, Browndale applied for five teachers and the Board has provided them. The agreement concerning the five teachers renewed in the spring of 1976.

At present, there is a low enrollment of 20 students at Browndale, creating a student-teacher ratio of four to one.

Each school in the county has facilities for special education, but the student-teacher ratio at Browndale provides an ideal school environment that the regular schools cannot provide for some students. Mr. Hodgson explained.

The Browndale announcement that other group homes will have to pay for the use of the buildings for their students means, that three boys from a group home under Dave Phillips are not in school.

Mr. Hodgson noted that the Browndale establishments have good results with their students. He will be mediating this week to get the boys back into school.

Teachers limited to 8 per cent

The Anti Inflation Board has cut both secondary and elementary school teachers' salary increase to eight per cent.

Municipality should have 3 trustees

Anson, Hindon and Minden should have three school trustees according to the school population instead of the two trustees that represent the municipality at present. Council made an appeal for the additional trustee in early July, but no action has been taken.

The appeal, according to the provisions of the Education Act which outlines the number of trustees to be elected on the basis of school population, was registered with a provincial court judge.

A letter to the municipal council from the sheriff's office was presented to the council on October 13. The letter stated that since the judge died, the matter has come to the attention of the court office.

The municipal council is aware that the matter will have to be resolved quickly so that the decision will not be too late for the upcoming election. Clerk Richard Parisotto said at council that either the court is not aware of the dates or is proposing stalling.

Richard Poole, the Chairman of the Haliburton County Board of Education Salary Negotiation Committee, told the Board on October 12, that in Haliburton, the eight per cent will not all go to the teachers as a direct raise in salary.

The increase will be a 7.8 per cent raise in salary on each grid position of the pay scale for teachers, and .2 per cent will go to group benefits.

The meeting was told that the elementary school teachers have accepted this settlement. Secondary teachers are still discussing the Board's policy. There is no question, however, of an increase greater than eight per cent.

$20,000 for local improvement

A Local Improvement Program grant has been awarded to Anson, Hindon and Minden in the sum of $20,000. Reeve Reg Booth announced at council on October 13.

The municipality applied for a grant of about $31,000 the Reeve said. The money is allocated by the provincial government to the riding, here the riding of Victoria Haliburton. It is then divided on the merits of applications from the various townships.

The $20,000 that Anson, Hindon and Minden expects this year will be spent on parks improvement. More work such as that done at Rotary Park, will be carried out to prevent erosion of the riverbanks. This involves the installation of gabriion baskets, wire and stone, which form retaining walls. Richard Parisotto, Clerk-admin-

Minden Memo

After services at Minden United Church on Sunday, Mr. & Mrs. Tom Newell were guests of the UCW at a little party to mark their 66th Wedding Anniversary. The ladies presented the couple with a bouquet of roses. There was also a corsage for the bride and a buttonhole for the groom.

Many friends expressed their good wishes, and stayed to enjoy the festive cake.

We celebrate our 35th next May, and I thought that was a long time, but, as the song says "we've only just begun."

Don't forget the Rummage Sale in Minden United Church Hall on Friday, October 22 from eleven to two. The sale will be sponsored by the UCW.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Walters have closed up their cottage at Kennisis Lake, and have taken up winter residence at Hart Lodge. Mrs. Caroline Sturge who summers at Mirror Lake, Blairhamp-ton has left for warmer climes. She is off to her winter retreat in Florida. Mr. & Mrs. Taylor Wilkins, summer residents on Lake Kashagawigamog in the Ingoldsby area, have returned to their Toronto home for the winter months.

In the absence of Father Doug Brown, Mr. Earl Cooper of West Guilford lay reader at St. George's, Haliburton, took the morning service at St. Paul's on Sunday. Organist Catherine Kellett was also out of town, and her place was ably filled by Mrs. Ruth Gorrie.

St. Paul's own lay reader, Lloyd Johnson, is kept busy these days at Minden United Church. Rev. Bushell left for Ripley in September, and so far, no one has been called to take his place.

The Hyland Crest Auxiliary will meet at eight o'clock on the evening of October 25 at the residence. Why don't you join them?

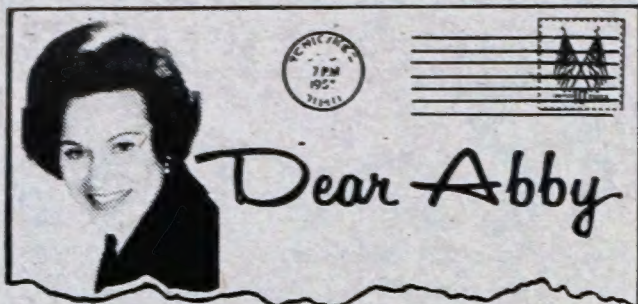

Mavis and Walter Noice are back in Minden after a visit to Thorold. While there, they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Furney. Mrs. Furney is Mavis' sister.

Both picked up a flu bug along the way, and are feeling a little rocky at the moment. We hope that they will soon be well.

John and Corinne Fleming, South Water Street, have as their guest, his sister, Mrs. Annie Slade. Mrs. Slade is visiting from Halifax, N.S.

Hope you are planning to attend the general meeting concerning a new library for Minden on Wednesday, October 27 at eight o'clock in the Municipal Offices.

I know that summer's over because:-
- the flags are down at the golf course
- some stores are closed on Wednesday
- 'Dusty' Sutherland disconnected the public drinking fountain
- the jays and grosbeaks are back
- the Christmas catalogue is out
- Stan had porridge for breakfast this morning

DEAR ABBY: I signed a three-year lease for an apartment in a very expensive high-rise building, at which time the manager assured me that there would always be someone available to walk "Her Highness," my French poodle. I would not have rented the apartment without that stipulation, and it was my understanding that it was written into my lease.

Everything was fine for 14 months. The elevator man, the guard, the janitor or the manager himself would walk Her Highness regularly.

Well, the building changed ownership, and the new manager instructed all the help that they were not to walk any dogs on company time!

When I told the new manager that it had been written into my lease, he laughed and said I must be kidding. I then phoned my lawyer, who checked my lease, and he said it had not been written in!

What do I do now?

STUMPED IN CHICAGO

DEAR STUMPED: Make new arrangements to have Her Highness walked. Trying to hold the new management to an agreement you had with the old management will be a royal headache.

DEAR ABBY: I am 21 and Rick is 20. We've been going steady for three years and planned to marry last Christmas. I had the wedding invitations printed and started making plans when Rick said he wanted to wait a while. No reason. He just wanted to wait.

At Easter we set the wedding for June. I had some more wedding invitations printed and had my wedding gown put on layaway. My girlfriends even had some showers for me. Then Rick decided to wait until autumn! Again no reason. He says he still loves me, but I'm starting to wonder now.

I am so embarrassed and hurt. I told him if he doesn't go through with it this time, we're finished. He says he still wants me to be his girlfriend, no matter what. Tell me what to do.

HUMILIATED

DEAR HUMILIATED: Face it, dear, Rick isn't ready for marriage, and you're lucky he had the sense and courage to admit it. Better a broken engagement than a broken marriage. Make a clean break, and don't be his "girlfriend." It won't work.

DEAR ABBY: I have lived steadily with a man (we are both over 21) for nearly two years. I kept thinking he would marry me, but whenever I mention it, he changes the subject.

Exactly how long do people have to live together before they have what is called a "common law marriage"?

How does a woman prove she's lived with a man if there is nothing in writing?

If it IS a common law marriage, doesn't she get half of everything the man owns if they split up?

There are no children involved, but I think I'm entitled to something for being a wife to this man for two years.

TWO-YEAR HITCH

DEAR HITCH: The laws differ from state to state, so you will need a lawyer to answer your questions.

Why don't you just ask him how much he thinks your wifely services were worth in dollars and cents? But prepare yourself for a big disappointment.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Water storage

The storage in the reservoirs was 44 per cent of maximum on October 12th of this year, compared to 30 per cent at the same time last year. Flows from the reservoirs remained nearly the same until the end of navigation on the 13th, after which flows were increased to pass the excess water in storage and enable the setting of winter logs in the dams. The normal draw-down of Hawk Lake was resumed.

The Kawartha Lakes remained near maximum levels until the end of navigation, then were allowed to drop a few centimetres, thus giving some storage in case of heavy fall rains. Otonabee River flows have remained above the minimum all week, and will be increased as the excess water from the reservoirs passes through the System.

People are advised that the safety booms above some navigation and reservoir dams are being removed for the winter, and extra caution should be exercised near these dams.

Delegations concerned about no plan

Concern for the lack of any official plan for land development in Anson, Hindon and Minden was expressed by two separate delegations to the municipal council last week.

The first delegation involved a subdivision that was proposed by Mr. and Mrs. L. Burch of Mountain Lake. 60 to 70 residents of that lake signed a petition objecting to the subdivision. Mrs. L. Quackenbush, who addressed the council on behalf of those who were against the subdivision said that the main cause for concern had been not the development of lake lots but the back lots that were suggested. She said the cottagers were mainly interested in planning.

Reeve Reg Booth noted that there were some misunderstandings that needed to be cleared away. The back lots had not been approved by the Ministry of Housing, that must approve any application and plan for a subdivision before the matter returns to the municipal level for scrutiny. The Ministry approved four of the lots suggested by Mr. and Mrs. Burch. Anson, Hindon and Minden council ruled that only three of the lots met with the bylaw requirements of the municipality. Final approval of any of the lots has not yet been given.

Cottagers who signed the petition were not aware that the properties in question were not on a bay that they say is already over-crowded.

The second delegation to council was made by Morgan Loucks and Harvey Burgess of the Canning Lake Cottagers' Association. Their objection also centered around the development of back lots that they believed were to have access to the lake and would cause over-crowding. Elmer Hodsoll who was proposing the development of a possible six lots told the cottagers that the plan was intended to remedy a right of way problem.

It would also clear up an unused gravel pit that has been the site of some disturbances in the past. Water access was not necessary to these lots, Mr. Hodsoll noted, since other permanent houses on the same road have no access.

The cottagers asked the municipality to defer a decision on Mr. Hodsoll's back lots until such time as an official plan is devised. They were answered by the Clerk, Richard Parisotto, who advised them that it would be a minimum of three or four years or longer before an official plan would be available. Dysart et al has an official plan, approved in part, he said, that took seven years to obtain.

Reeve Booth outlined Anson, Hindon and Minden's controls on land development and noted that the controls have been in effect for a considerable length of time. The council began planning in 1960, he said. By 1962 they had devised a restricted area bylaw that was not given official approval until 1968. This was the first restricted area bylaw in effect in the area. Reeve Booth noted that Dysart et al does not have such a bylaw.

Anson, Hindon and Minden Council is on record as being in favor of an official plan. A plan was being discussed last year, but was dropped for the time being since the government withdrew a major part of its financial support. The Province may in future assist in planning if a whole region will agree to it.

Councillor Bob Gorrie told the cottagers that if they were "aiming at good control, I feel that our present bylaws have that." Reeve Booth said that there was confusion about back lots being approved. The present policy of the Ministry of Housing is to refuse approval of back lots, and further to that judgement, the municipality can enforce its own bylaws.

The United Church Official Board of the Coboconk charge met for the quarterly meeting on Thursday, October 14th in the Baddon Community Hall. Rev. Kenneth Crawford greeted and chaired the meeting for the 27 people present. It was decided to have joint Church Services first Sunday of each month starting in November at Kinmount. Congregations will meet at Baddon in December and Norland in January.

Roy and Rotha Bryant had a busy weekend on Saturday afternoon they attended in Toronto the Convocation of Max Greer, their son-in-law Max received his registered Industrial Accountants' degree. On Sunday, their grandson Jeffrey Greer, was christened at Markham United Church.

Norland's reserve town water pump that was being repaired in Lindsay, is now back at the pump house ready for emergency use.

Sorry to report that Mrs. Phyllis Greig is in Lindsay's Ross Memorial Hospital. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Jean Stewart and I were representatives of the Norland Women's Institute at a two day school for leaders in Lindsay last week. Our project was called "Accessories for the Home" and part of it was the construction of a round pillow featuring a continuous bias and a zipper installation. The instructor was Miss Jeanne Armour, Supervisor of Home Furnishings in Toronto. Jean and I will be conducting a class on what we learned and any lady in the Norland area wishing to attend, please call me before October 25th, at 454-3233.

DON'T FORGET - Thursday, October 28th, at 7:00 p.m. in Norland Community Hall, there will be a public meeting to discuss the proposed township zoning by-law. All ratepayers should attend.

Museum a step in the right direction

Minden residents involved in the initial plans to build a museum-library complex are taking steps in the right direction.

For many years, provincial and federal money has been available for projects of this nature and the onus has always been on the people in the communities to get the work off the ground.

A museum would be of great benefit to the entire community, a place to display our past, present and future.

The Recorder would like to suggest that this museum, at least in part be an exhibition centre where various displays could be shown, to keep the general interest of the local public at a peak.

There are many displays available to exhibition centres on a rotating basis that would keep the interest of the local people up in such an establishment.

CLC could try ballot boxes

Joe Morris, President of the Canadian Labor Congress though he could unite and consolidate the loosely knit labor movement by calling a National Strike, instead he brought about more dissension. With about 2/3 of union workers refusing to strike, he can no longer speak as the spokesman for a monolithic labor movement.

The whole affair was an exercise in futility.

It cost the country many millions of dollars.

It indicated that most people feel that the C.L.C. should work through the ballot box and the Parliament.

It demonstrated that most people feel that a National Strike against the Government borders on insurrection.

It suggests that fighting our elected representatives, labor accomplishes less than it would by co-operating with them.

It annoyed and lessened the support of the General public, who felt that a strike of this kind is not the Canadian way of doing things.

"CAN YOU PICTURE THIS PLACE
RUN BY TWO GUYS NAMED

JIMMY 'n' JOE?"

'One foot in the furrow' by Bob Trotter

Letters are appreciated by Bob Trotter, Eldale Rd. Elmira, Ont. N3B 2C7

This corner has been severely chastized for last week's column suggesting that Anthony Abbot, the new minister of consumer and corporate affairs, is myopic in his outlook on farm marketing boards.

"You are supposed to be an experienced reporter," a letter from Ottawa stated. "You did not quote some other portions of Mr. Abbot's speech which gave some reasons why he wants to take a closer look at the operation of some marketing boards."

"Mr. Abbot said he was puzzled as to why consumers in British Columbia can drive long distances to the United States, buy groceries and drive home again with substantial savings."

Yes, Mr. Abbot did say that. But I cannot see the reason for him being puzzled. A great many things are cheaper in the United States than they are in Canada simply because there are more people in the United States than in Canada.

The goods can be produced cheaper in the U.S. because the market potential exceeds 200 million. In Canada, we are dealing with a population of less than 25 million. Even a rudimentary knowledge of economics suggests that the more goods that are produced, the cheaper the unit cost. And that's why so many things are cheaper across the 49th parallel.

Why point the finger only at food?

And why, the letter asks, did I not add what Mr. Abbot said about being fair to farmers?

Okay, I'm sorry. I apologize.

Mr. Abbot said: "It is fundamental that we must be fair to agricultural producers who rightly expect a decent level of income from their production. But to say that the consumer equally has a right to reasonable prices, nutritious food should not be controversial."

Right on, Tony. Just remember, though, that when farm produce leaves the farm gate it is nutritious as nature meant it to be. It isn't the farmer who processes it and extracts all the goodness so that "enrichment" has to be added before the consumer gets it.

And don't lay all the blame on the processor, either. It is the consumer who demands quick-and-easy, processed foods. What the consumer demands, the consumer gets, it seems.

Which is all the more reason farmers are sitting behind the eight ball. The consumer gets what he or she wants but the farmer is the thirteenth piglet at feeding time because less than six people in 100 are actively engaged in farming these days.

To be brutally frank, farmers no longer have a political clout. Consumers do, mind you. Everybody is a consumer and consumers have a lot of votes.

To suggest, as Mr. Abbot has, that as a general rule the aim of his department is to allow the market to govern itself "by the impersonal forces of competition" seems to be in direct opposition to his boss, Mr. Trudeau.

Was it not Mr. Trudeau who said just a little less than a year ago on television that the free market system in Canada has failed? Didn't he say something like that?

Impersonal forces of competition, indeed!

If all farmers are forced to return to the so-called free marketplace, then you will see multi-national conglomerates stepping up their efforts to control the production of food in this country. You will see them overtly forcing their way into big farming operations clean across Canada and putting the small farmer right out of business.

And if Mr. Abbot and his department think that there is a ripoff in the market place now, wait until big business takes over.

If marketing boards manipulate the market place — which has been suggested by many people who should know better — then watch the degree of manipulation when big business wants to make money and has effectively squeezed out all competition.

I'm not, as has been said in a few letters, the great champion of marketing boards. I'd like to know a better way to get farmers a better deal. But until now, I haven't heard a word that convinces me that marketing boards for farm products are evil.

Until a better idea comes along, I stick with supporting farmers in their efforts to bring order out of chaos by the formation of marketing boards and even supply management if that's what it takes to get a reasonable return for the farmer.

LOOKING BACK

This river drivers' bunk tent moored at University Bay on Gull Lake is typical of the accommodation that lumbermen on the lakes had in the 1920's. The picture, taken at that time, was donated by Mr. J.W.

Melson of Gull Lake. A log boom, towed by an "alligator", can be seen in the background. The alligators were paddle wheel contraptions that could draw themselves up on land as well as move through the water.

Inside the Recorder

by Susan McLaughlin

An official plan for land development is much discussed as a very necessary part of the development of a county. The more I hear, however, about the possibility of an official plan for all parts of Haliburton County, the more I see the problems of devising one.

The 66 foot shore allowance serves as an excellent illustration of the point. At a meeting in Stanhope held to discuss the possibility of a restricted area by-law for that municipality it was stated that the municipality has virtually no control of the 66 foot allowance, in spite of the Municipal Act which states that the land is under the jurisdiction of the township. Approval for transfer of the allowance to adjoining property owners also involves the consent of the Ministries of Housing and Natural Resources, who at present follow a policy of holding on to the land to prevent its development. The shoreline allowance is therefore zoned as open space according to the preliminary draught of Stanhope's restricted area by-law.

Lutterworth Township, on the other hand, respects the Municipal Act's direction that the 66 foot allowance is under the control of the municipal council. They are proceeding with an attempt to devise a method whereby appropriate sections of the shore allowance may be transferred to property owners. A motion regarding the investigation into the feasibility of such a plan is to be presented to the next County Council.

Anson, Hindon and Minden have halted the development of the 66 foot allowance by incorporating it into a municipal by-law which has been in effect since 1968. In the early 1970's the by-law was amended to increase the original setback from 50 to 66 feet, Reeve Reg Booth explained. The measure as well as protecting the shoreline, protects the property owners since they do not have a clear title to the 66 foot strip, he said. Speaking at Anson, Hindon and Minden on October 13, the Reeve said that he considers the abolition of some parts of the 66 foot setback being considered by Lutterworth to be a step backwards in adequate controls, on development.

There is a difference in opinion among the townships concerning the restricted by-laws that do or do not control the 66 foot allowance in addition to the different attitudes to the 66 foot setback.

At Stanhope's meeting on the restricted by-law, the by-law was described as a stop-gap, until an official plan is made available.

It was stated at the meeting held October 9, that a plan was essential. Problems have arisen in other tourist areas where the permanent population has been growing and there is no plan to control and guide development.

Anson, Hindon and Minden, Reeve Booth feels, has adequate controls through its restricted area by-law. An official plan, Reeve Booth said, increases the provincial government's control. In an area such as this, he felt, it also tends to stop development, growth and business.

Dysart et al have an official plan which took seven years to obtain, and which is still approved only in part.

At present, the Province's policy on planning demands that an entire area consents to be planned as a unit. Approval of an official plan for the County as a whole was close last year. However, late in the negotiations, the Province withdrew its offer to pay for half the costs. It was decided that the expenditure was too great to support. County Warden Gerry Howarth said that considering the tighter government budget this year, it was probably a good thing that the planning procedures were postponed for this year.

The Province apparently incorporates any future planning with restructuring studies. Restructuring demands, of course, the full consent of all townships concerned. The problem of reconciling the various differences of opinion are fairly obvious. The sanest word on the subject probably comes from Warden Howarth, who pointed out that in county government, as in all else, parties must be willing to give up a little if they hope to get a little.

Big, bad winter

The 1976-77 winter will be a big, bad one, with plenty of cold and snow. And by way of contrast, the summer of 1977 will be scorchingly hot.

The Farmers' Almanac is in its 160th consecutive year of publication and has been producing a special Canadian Edition, with a Canadian weather section for Victoria and Grey Trust Company since 1968.

Eighty-five thousand complimentary copies of the 1977 Edition are available to anyone interested in dropping into anyone of the many Victoria and Grey offices.

Letter to the editor

Dear Sir:

Your information regarding the construction of the old Lutterworth School is somewhat sketchy. Rather than having been built by "a group of mason's who had recently settled in the area" it was built by Joe and Will Valentine and Duncan Prentice - all of them belonging to families who had been in the area 60 years or more already. The land was given by my grandfather, John Martin "for educational purposes" but the local Council in their wisdom sold it to Mr. Shaver rather than returning it to the Martin Estate.

Much finer examples of stonework of this era can be found only a short distance away in Forest Echo Lodge built by Joe and Ed Valentine and Les Stephens, Mr. Sid Ewen's Stone Cottage (the former Ned Wessel House) built by Joe and Ed Valentine, Mulberry House, built by Dick Togue and the old Clark Cottage built by Dick Togue and Ed Valentine.

The Old Miner's Bay Church was built by Dunc Prentice and Joe, Ed and Will Valentine with the help of the neighbours of the community.

Yours very truly,
M.K: Valentine (nee Martin)

Warden wants

Better communications

Poor communications between Haliburton County's townships and between the townships and county council could hinder the county's development, county Warden Gerry Howarth feels.

With his one year term coming to an end on Saturday with the annual Warden's banquet Mr. Howarth has given every proof of his willingness to work for the better communications that will mean a more advanced county. Mr. Howarth has spent this last year doing more than his position requires in attempting to improve understanding between the levels of county government.

The County Warden regularly acts as chairman of the County Council and also sits on each of the council's committees. Each committee meets three or four times per year. The Warden is busy, and also well informed. He is in a position to know more than others what proceedings and programs have been instituted at a county level.

Mr. Howarth has not only been conscientious in fulfilling his prescribed duties, he has made a point of visiting the township councils which has not been a part of the Warden's schedule in the past.

So, perhaps more than past Wardens Mr. Howarth is in touch with the county government at all levels. It is an important position he feels, since a county must establish good communication channels in order to move forward.

Mr. Howarth has been a part of government since 1970, when he first held a position on a Bycroft Council. He regrets that the Warden's position is only a one year term, since he says that by the time a Warden has become familiar with the county and has a sufficient grasp on its problems to work in solutions, the term is over. He did speak of the amount of time and dedication required by any member of municipal or county government. They work long hours, Mr. Howarth says, with some remuneration, but the amount of energy that is required to deal with the sometimes irate public demands that they be truly interested in and dedicated to the principles that they uphold. It is a problem with an elected position Mr. Howarth feels, that by the time an official fully understands his electorate, his term is due.

The problem must be aggravated with regard to the position of Warden although Mr. Howarth reflected that there may not be too many people who would be willing to accept a two year term as Warden.

There are many who would probably find the position extremely time consuming especially if they chose to follow Mr. Howarth's example. He has to some extent transformed the Warden's position.

His reception, he said, has sometimes been mixed. There are those who are slow to accept anything new in government procedure. This will have to change Mr. Howarth feels, and communication between all levels is the only way to overcome the suspicion and misunderstanding that is often at the root of rejection of government change.

Petition council for road repairs

A petition from 20 to 25 cottagers was sent to Lutterworth Council to ask for repairs to the private road leading to Beaver Lake and Moore's Lake.

Clerk of Lutterworth, Bev Millar, said that this petition points out a typical problem.

Any private roadway that has not been developed to the Ministry of Transportation and Communications standards cannot be repaired with the help of funds or the equipment supplied by the MTC. Most municipal road repairs are funded in part by the MTC as well. When repairs are made to a private roadway, the cost falls completely on the municipality.

Ratepayers, feel entitled to some benefit although the burden on the municipality of maintaining private roads is too great.

As a result of the council meeting on October 12, a copy of the petition has been sent to the Ministry along with an outline of the problem. Queen's Park is being asked for suggestions.

On Tuesday, Minden's new fire hall really began to take shape as workers of Broadworth Construction swung the steel into place. The prefabricated steel framework went up quickly. The cost of the building was estimated at $50,000. The interior will be finished by the firemen, in an effort to save money. Now that the steel framework is in place, it's possible to see what they have been working towards.

Board will pay for course

The Haliburton County School board voted on October 13 to subsidize in part a St. John's Ambulance First Aid course for willing teachers of all schools in the county. It was said at the meeting that such training would be tremendous value to both students and teachers.

J.D. Hodgson, Director of Education, noted that there is rarely a day that goes by in the large schools without an accident.

The Board received a letter from Ray Johnson, a teacher at the Senior Elementary School, who proposed the undertaking. He suggested that the Board pay the fee of $16.50 required for the course, or reimburse $10 to those who successfully complete the course. A group of 20 is the minimum enrolment. A good deal of interest had already been shown.

Chairman of the Board, Floyd Johnson, who instructs the First Aid course said that he couldn't state his support too strongly.

There was some discussion by members of the Board who felt that it is a course that people should want to take for their own benefit, without Board expenditure. Most members, however, felt that the expense to the Board was minimal for the advantage it would provide, especially to outlying schools that are further from medical help.

The Board consented to pay one half of the cost of the course to each teacher who successfully completes the final exam. In an effort to ensure that teachers from outlying schools also felt free to come, the Board agreed to pay travelling expenses for one car from each school to Haliburton where the course will be held.

Teacher made minor head

Carl Wallace a teacher at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School, is to be appointed the Minor Head of the geography department at the school as of January, 1977.

The Board of Education considered a request by Brian Mosgrove the principal of H.H.S.S.

At its meeting on October 12, the Board of Education considered a request made by Brian Mosgrove for the appointment of Mr. Wallace to the position.

Until this time, geography courses have had no formal leadership at the head level, the meeting was told. There are 15 classes and 351 students under this department. Geography forms a major part of Canadian Studies, of which two credits are needed for graduation.

Scholarship fund awards

The Haliburton Highlands Scholarship Fund will hold its annual Honors and Awards Night at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School, Oct. 23, beginning at 8 p.m.

A release from the organizers of the fund stated that at this time scholarships and bursaries will be presented to students and graduates of the school.

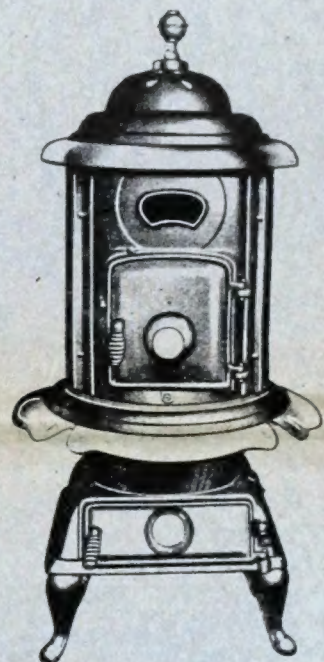

"Prior to the presentation of awards, the teaching staff of HHSS will entertain the 1976 honor student award winners and the donors of the awards, at the honor banquet, being held in the school cafeteria," it said in the release.

During the presentation of awards, the fund chairman, Robertson Herlihey, will announce the addition of several new awards to the scholarship Program.

The HHSS Glee Club, under the direction of William Gliddon, will present a short program of entertainment.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend this event at which the outstanding students of our community will be honored.

Reaching for north shore

Back to dry land

The bailey bridge spanned the Gull River in just about eight hours on Thursday.

Workmen of Larsen Grills Construction began pinning the sections of the bridge together at 7:00 a.m. with the help of a crane, a front end loader had pushed the connected sections of the bridge over the rollers on the south side of the river so that the structure touched the north shore.

Earl Kent, Roads Superintendent for Anson, Hindon and Minden, explained that as the sections are put together on one side of the river extra pieces are added to balance the pieces that you may have seen hanging over the water with the other sections being added on shore. Once the bridge was across the river about 60 feet of extra length added for the balance was removed.

Apparently, Mr. Kent said, bailey bridges went up in the war in 10 to 12 hours, although they weren't being so particular about where the bridge was going.

Although Minden's bailey bridge went across in eight hours, it was still not usable. Sidewalks were still to be hung on the outside of the bridge and planking to be laid for the driving surface.

The wood was put down Monday and by Tuesday night was open to traffic, still a very fast job.

Eakins agrees with OHRP extension

John Eakins, M.P.P., Victoria-Haliburton, says the extension of the Ontario Home Renewal Program (OHRP) is one which he agrees with and which he has fully supported and encouraged. Mr. Eakins said that he feels it is a good investment and in the long run will be much more reasonable financially than more costly Urban Renewal Programs. He said that anyone interested in more information should contact their municipal clerk or may call Mr. Eakins' constituency office.

"Extending Ontario's program will conserve and improve existing housing stock by expanding the Ontario Home Renewal Program (OHRP) to include rental accommodation and thereby help upgrade rental units occupied predominately by low and moderate income families," he said.

There are many older dwellings which can be renewed to provide affordable, adequate accommodation for families of low and moderate incomes. Mr. Eakins added.

It is now the intention of Queen's Park to extend this approach beyond the home owner and include tenants as well.

The program will be administered by local municipalities and will only be available to those municipalities that operate an approved maintenance and occupancy standards by-law and have participated in the Ontario Home Renewal Program.

"An integral part of this program is the requirement for a participating landlord to enter into a rental agreement by which rents will be set according to a pre-determined formula," Mr. Eakins said.

In addition, regulations require that it must be demonstrated that the building of a landlord who wishes to join the program is occupied predominately by families with low or moderate incomes.

The Ontario program has three goals:

- the upgrading of units in existing buildings whose height does not exceed four storeys;

- the conversion of existing commercial premises to create new rental units;

- the conversion of single family homes to create new rental units.

No funds will be available for buildings used as a lodging or rooming house.

Landlords will be able to obtain loans not to exceed $10,000 per dwelling unit. The loan can include a forgivable portion which is not to exceed $3,750.

The size of the forgivable portion is related directly to the cost of the rehabilitation. For loans of up to $5,000, the maximum forgivable portion is $2,500. This increases in increments of $250 for each additional $1,000 in the size of the loan to the $10,000 loan maximum.

Interest rates on all loans will be fixed at eight per cent per annum, and the repayable portion of the loan will be amortized over a 20 year period.

"These low interest rates and the extended repayment period, together with the rental agreement already built into the program should prevent unreasonable rent increases," Mr. Eakins said.

He added that he understands that provincial funding will be aimed at the repair of faulty structural and sanitary conditions as well as upgrading of plumbing, heating and electrical systems.

For the remainder of the 1976-77 fiscal year $2,000,000 will be allocated for this program which will serve as a bench mark for determining future need and funding arrangements.

Provincial grants of up to $250,000 will be allocated to municipalities on the basis of need. These funds will be made available directly to local municipalities where regional governments do not exist, or do not wish to assume responsibility.

Municipal applications for funding for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1977 must be received by the Ministry of Housing not later than December 31, 1976.

Municipality hopes to get dump with program

With the help of the Province's Derelict Motor Vehicle Program, Anson, Hindon and Minden Council may be in a position to establish the needed dumping site on the Bobcaygeon Road north of Minden.

The Ministry of the Environment first announced a program two and a half years ago whereby a municipality is funded for the recovery and disposal of derelict vehicles.

A memorandum of the project was sent from the Ministry to the municipality and the matter was discussed at the council meeting on Wednesday. The clerk was directed by council to proceed with an investigation into the requirements for funding.

It is hoped that the site for the collection of the old vehicles could become a dump site for the municipality once the Provincial Derelict program is over. A suitable site will be sought along the Bobcaygeon Road as far north as Brady Lake. The municipality is usually responsible for the total cost of dumping sites, but it is hoped that this program will provide the means of accomplishing two things at once.

Contract awarded for sewage plant

The tender for the preparation of the sites of a sewage treatment plant and two auxiliary pumping stations for the municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden has been awarded to Seeley and Arnhill Construction Ltd. The amount of the tender for the preparation of the land, grading, gravel base, the required roadway and ditching totals $82,501.50. The work is to be completed by Thursday, December 2.

The Municipality will proceed with an application for the maximum amount of loan that would be available from the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation (C.M.H.C.) for the entire waterworks program.

Consulting engineers Totten, Sims and Hubicki have prepared cost estimates for the improvements to the Municipal watermain and the installation of a reservoir. The cost of the watermain is expected to be $406,063.

Water storage tanks and modifications to the well and pump house are estimated at $259,160.

What's N.E.W.

Nutrition every week

What's N.E.W. (other than this slogan for Nutrition Week)? N.E.W. is Nutrition Every Week although nutrition is getting special emphasis for the next few days.

Advice on eating healthful foods is Nutrition Week, and it's on right now. Local Health Units are publishing the Week to try and make people more aware of the fact that "you are what you eat."

To see how you add up nutritionally, try the Five Point Lunch Plan that the Haliburton, Kawartha, and Pine Ridge District Health Unit has distributed. Begin by counting the number of foods on your plate the next time you sit down for lunch.

There should be at least one food from each of the following food groups: milk or milk alternatives, meat or alternatives (e.g. meat, fish, peanut butter, poultry, eggs baked beans), fruit or juice, vegetable of juice, whole grain or enriched bread.

Give yourself one point for each food group present and score according to this list: 5: You're a nutrition expert! 4: Not bad, as long as this doesn't happen every day. 3: Better have a chat with your local dietician/nutritionist. 0-2: Aren't you glad you have good OHIP coverages?

If you don't do very well on the lunch test, maybe you need to hear about Canada's Food Guide again. Most people are exposed to the Food Guide in school, but unless it becomes part of everyday, it doesn't do much good.

The Food Guide outlines what foods are good for you and how often you should eat them.

Milk is important. Children up to 11 years should drink 2½ cups a day. Adults should drink 1½ cups and expectant and nursing mothers 4 cups.

Fruit or juice should be served twice a day, including a satisfactory source of Vitamin C.

You should have two servings of vegetables each day, preferably yellow or green, and frequently raw, and one serving of potatoes. Vegetables are usually low calorie when served without sauces or butter.

One serving of whole grain cereal should be had a day, and one serving of bread with butter or fortified margarine. Even in diets this food group is important.

Meat and protein alternatives are also necessary. One serving a day of meat, fish or poultry is a must, and it is a good idea to eat liver occasionally. Eggs, cheese should be eaten at least three times a week.

There are lots of ways to cut calories, costs, and preparation time and still stay within the Food Guide's outline. Snacks, too, don't have to lack food value.

The students at Archie Siouffer Public School are learning about nutrition this week. Students of Home Economics study nutrition as a part of the course. This week too, there is a competition among the junior students for the class that brings the most nutritious lunches. So try the lunch test for a few days, (but don't forget that all-important breakfast) and really think about the food you eat. It's the only thing you have to go on.

Coboconk News by Sheila Lake

A happy 40th Anniversary for Marjorie and Harvey Farrow on Sunday, Oct. 10th was held at the home of their daughter & son-in-law Etla & Wiley Hannivan. The occasion was planned by their children, Jim and his wife, Ann Marie Farrow of Omemee and daughter Etla and husband Wiley of Coboconk. After the first shock of surprise wore off, Harv and Marj settled down and enjoyed a visit with the many friends and relatives and all enjoyed a beautiful buffet supper. Harv got his violin tuned up and accompanied by Bett Smales on violin and Audrey Hopkins on piano and Jim Hopkins on spoons. I'm sure the whole community joins with the family in wishing Harv and Marj many more years of happiness. Hope Harv keeps his violin tuned up for their 50th Anniversary.

Christ Church Anglican held their Thanksgiving service on Sun. Oct. 10th. The church was tastefully decorated in Autumn leaves and colors. Rev. Downey gave thanks for a beautiful harvest and was joined by a large crowd who had come to worship. Coffee & cookies were served in the Parish Hall. The cookies and coffee are a weekly event for all Anglicans in the area and visitors are always welcome.

A fun night for the local people will be held at the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 519 Coboconk on Sat. Oct. 30th. Come in costumes for Halloween and enjoy the fun.

The Lion's Beef Barbecue and the Legion Turkey dinner on Saturday were both very successful. Despite the wet snow and rain, beef lovers and turkey dinner lovers had a choice of a delicious dinner. Mr. Geo Shepherd, Fred Jones and Ten Garrel manned the out-door beef barbecue at the community park all night in order to have the beef ready for Saturday. Jean Barcevell, Ladies Auxiliary, Pres. of the Legion and her helpers done a great job with the turkey dinner. These hard workers are to be heartily commended for they did indeed work very hard baking, roasting, washing up the dishes etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Fountain and boys of Orillia were weekend visitors of Mrs. Given Rutter.

Mr. & Mrs. J. Parry of Oshawa and Mr. & Mrs. Roy Payton and Davey of Manchester were visitors of Mr. & Mrs. Ken Fralick & Clara last week.

Mr. & Mrs. Geo Roberts of Toronto, Mr. & Mrs. S. Miller, Robert and Ricky Bleming of Bronte and Laurie and Kimberly Bleming of Bronte were Thanksgiving visitors of Mr. & Mrs. Harvey Basinger.

Mr. & Mrs. Wayne Ruttler, Michael and Melony of Wilberforce were visitors of his parents, Mr. & Mrs. Tom Ruttler & Garnet on the week end.

Mrs. Lavern Leywood is home from Toronto Western hospital.

Mr. Bill Bradamore underwent surgery in Ross Memorial Hospital on Thurs. of last week.

Mr. Carl Weeks and his mother Mrs. Wm. Weeks attended her sisters, Mr. & Mrs. James Gard 40th wedding anniversary at Islington recently.

Sincere sympathy goes out to the Hall family. Gordon Hall passed away in Lindsay on Saturday after a lengthy illness. Mr. & Mrs. Hall moved to Lindsay a year ago but had lived here for many years.

The auction sale held at the Wayne and Audrey Dawnes property was a success. Despite the miserable weather, auction sale fans turned out in full force and bidding was active throughout the sale.

Congratulations to Brian Hannivan and to Brenda Liscombe who won over their competitors at the demolition derby in Minden on the weekend. I don't think we have many gals who are brave enough to enter the powder-puff demolition derby so Brenda deserves a prize!

Weekend visitors of Mr. & Mrs. Jack Pearce were Mr. & Mrs. Bob Taylor of Oshawa and grand-daughter Mr. & Mrs. Henry Kyc of Oshawa.

The beef-on-the-hoof raffle at Royal Canadian Legion Branch 519 Coboconk was won by Mr. Wann of Minden who claimed his prize on Monday from Mr. Gord Travis who had sold it to the Legion and had fed it until time of draw.

Congratulations Mr. Wann! With beef prices rising you are happy with your prize. I'm sure.

Congratulations to newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Russell who were married in the Anglican Church on Saturday, October 16th. Following the wedding the bride and groom travelled by horse & wagon out to the hall where a wedding supper was held. The flower girls rode along in another horse and cart behind the bride and groom. A novel idea! Following the wedding, and dinner, a dance followed.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Lake were Saturday evening and Sunday visitors of Mr. & Mrs. Rob Lake and family at Niagara Falls, hence this will be brief as I was late returning from Niagara Sunday night!

Mr. Glen Liscombe is a patient in Sunnybrook Hospital at Toronto.

Mr. & Mrs. P. Gilson of Orillia were visitors of Mrs. Lizzie Lake, Clara and Art last week. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Roubental of Sarnia were also visitors of Mrs. Lizzie Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. John Faulkner and family of Peterborough were weekend visitors of Mr. & Mrs. Ross Faulkner. By the way, Mrs. Myrtle Faulkner won one hundred dollars in the latest Wintario Contest.

BULLDOZING AND EXCAVATING

You may have seen some fine examples of old model cars in the area over the weekend. Members of the Antique Auto Club of America, Ontario Region were staying near Haliburton at the Wig-a-mog Inn. They have been coming to the area for eight years on their Fall Foliage Tour, and stopped on Sunday for a champagne brunch at the opening of the PineStone Inn. None of the cars are equipped with heaters, since that wouldn't be authentic, even though such a new-fangled piece of equipment might have come in handy in the cold weather. A line of fifteen cars were parked at one time outside the door of the PineStone, and a wide range of years and models were on view.

Dedicate painting

A painting will be dedicated to Thomas A. Welch Memorial Library in memory of Margaret Helen Hickman one of the three people to die in the Hawk Lake Culvert Collapse. The dedication will be made Saturday at 3:30 p.m.

Pay for stray dogs

Dog owners who are not residents of Lutterworth will now pay the costs of keeping and returning any stray animals, including the costs of long distance phone calls, for any animals impounded by that township.

The bylaw officer outlined the procedure at Lutterworth Council on October 12.

The problem with costs of dealing with stray dogs whose owners are not township residents arises a few times each year.

Conference slated for newly elected trustees

The Ontario School Trustees' Council has announced that there will be a learning conference for all newly elected trustees that will be held from February 10 to 12 of 1977.

The conference will include instruction in areas such as the Education Act, Budget, School Board Operations, curriculum, public relations, regional offices, policy making and collective bargaining.

The Ontario School Trustees' Council is a body which incorporates members from four affiliated trustees associations across Ontario.

The Haliburton County Board of Education belongs to the Ontario Public School Trustees' Association, one of the affiliates of the Trustees' Council which serves both elementary and secondary schools. The three remaining associations are the Northern Ontario Trustees' Association, the Ontario Separate Schools Trustees' Association and the Ontario French Language Trustees' Association.

The learning conference, as a function of the Trustees' council which attempts to be province wide in scope, is available to all new trustees.

Area retired group grant of $9,850.00

Report from Queen's Park

By MPP John Eakins

On October 6th, Ontario's Education Minister announced changes in the Province's educational system. The Liberal Party had for some time made no secret of the fact that we intended to unveil our education policy at a fund-raising dinner to be held on that date, and the Minister was certainly aware of our intentions. From statements made by our Party's representatives in recent months, as well as during - and prior to - the last election campaign, he must also have had a clear idea of what our "New Directions for Education" would be. Obviously, then, neither the timing of his announcement, nor the direction of his changes can be looked upon as coincidental.

Calling a hasty press conference, the Minister outlined the changes of "refinements" which had been decided upon - mainly that more solid "core" subjects, such as English, Mathematics, Canadian history or geography, will be required subjects for students entering Grades IX and X at the beginning of the 1977/78 school year. While we welcome the Government's refinements, we regret that there is still no guarantee that firm guidelines will be established to ensure that students throughout Ontario will be given comparable instruction, and assessed on similar achievement valuation standards.

Ontario's educational system is financially supported by the taxpayers in the belief that a literate, skilled and articulate population is vital for the well-being of this Province. Our schools have a well role to play in helping and encouraging our young people to become productive members of society, informed citizens, able to meet the challenge of today's competitive world. Under the existing educational system in this Province, as Liberal Leader Stuart Smith has pointed out, "pupils are placed in an environment where the degree of free choice is excessive for their level of maturity and inconsistent with the real world, creating unrealistic expectations."

We believe that standards must have a place in our educational system, at every level, as they do in the public service and private enterprise, where individuals are evaluated against specific performance criteria. Province-wide educational standards would provide a yardstick against which pupils, parents, teachers and administrators could measure accomplishment.

Our Party has long advocated a required core curriculum, and our recommendation is that at least one-half of the instructional time (and most prescribed homework) in the Primary and Junior Divisions of our schools should encompass English reading comprehension (Francais in francophone schools); formal communication skills such as precision in spelling, grammar, punctuation and spoken language; second language and culture (as trained teachers become available); arithmetic computation, measurement and associated problem solving; basic Canadian studies; fitness and health education.

Students who have progressed to the Intermediate Division (Grades 7 to 10) should have obtained a basic grounding in language and arithmetic. Therefore, the core curriculum could be extended, with the basic skills serving as a foundation. The core in this division should be composed of five major areas: Reading and Comprehension; Mathematics; Science; Social Science; Social Science (including Canadian studies); Second Language and Culture.

One of the fundamental shortcomings of the present educational system is the almost total lack of curriculum structure in secondary schools. The open credit method places widespread recognition that pupils cannot adequately choose well-balanced programs of study, that parents and teachers currently have insufficient knowledge of pupils' attainment and interests to offer meaningful guidance.

We have, in "New Directions for Education", recommended the establishment of a fourth or Senior Division, to begin at Grade XI. Pupils at this level should have already attained a significant common background in basic knowledge, and a wide exposure to numerous subjects. Therefore, this Division would appear to be the appropriate environment in which to introduce a basically optional or elective program of study.

In our view, province-wide examinations, based on minimum standards of attainment in core courses, would provide a necessary degree of accountability. These examinations would be taken by pupils at the end of the final year of each Division (after teachers have submitted final grades for that year). In this way, the examinations would be diagnostic - not counted in course grades - and would provide province-wide evidence which would permit pupils and parents to gain an improved perspective of development of scholastic abilities, & more realistic expectations about the future. The examinations would also enable teachers to evaluate teaching methods and grading criteria, and administrators to determine strengths and weaknesses in the schools under their jurisdiction.

Such examinations would also be useful in determining eligibility for entry to colleges and universities. At present, a major difficulty facing admissions officers in institutions of higher learning is the great disparity in grading practices and course content in the Province's secondary schools. Commenting on our education policy, a recent "Toronto Star" editorial maintained that "the return of province-wide examinations at the end of high school is emphatically necessary to correct the loss of recognizable standards in high schools. There is so much variation now that university admission offices don't know whether a student's high school graduation standing means anything in terms of his readiness to tackle college work. This also accounts in part for the fact that students who can't read or write properly are showing up in universities."

See you next week

False fire alarm

A false fire alarm that sent firemen from Anson, Hindon and Minden to the cottage of Mrs. K. Graudins in August was to incur a fine to the cottager, since the call was the result of a mechanical fire alarm system that had been installed without authorization.

Richard Parisotto, clerk-administrator, told the council on Wednesday that Mrs. Graudins has contacted the municipality to say that she had authorization from the fire chief, at that time Eldon Deacon, to install the system in December 1975. Bob Parrish of Alarmco, who installed the device, which told the fire department the location of the cottage by recorded message had permission from the fire chief, according to the information given to council.

The matter will be further examined by the clerk, and will be brought before the next council meeting. If Mrs. Graudins' information is correct, she should not have to pay the fine, it was stated at council.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Marles of Mount Albert were Sunday visitors of Mrs. A. Marles.

The new houses on Baseline Road are about ready for occupants. In fact, I believe Bill and Wanda Liscombe and girls have just moved into their new home. So nice to see our village growing!

Vandals are again out to destroy what they can. They have apparently been stealing tools from vehicles, 8 track tapes, C.B. radios and even went so far as to push a car in the river behind Riverside Motors one night. Another fellow had a headlight smashed for no reason.

Success is that old ABC: Ability, Brains and Courage - quote by Charles Luckman. Food for thought - Do a disagreeable job today instead of tomorrow. You will save 24 hours of dreading to do it, while having 24 hours to savor the feeling that the job is behind you, quote by Bob Talbert.

The frost finally hit real hard on Saturday night. Hope all you folks have anti freeze in your cars, a supply of furnace oil in the tank and your snow-shovel handy! We can be assured winter is on the way. To add to our problems, the postal workers are threatening to strike again. Seems we are a very striking County! Does striking in this sense mean attractive??? I doubt it!

Applications for home renewal

Applications for money from the Ontario Home Renewal Program will be available in Anson, Hindon and Minden this week and may be obtained from the clerk.

The Municipality has been given an advance of $10,000 for the project, although the total amount available for the program is not yet known.

Clerk-administrator Richard Parisotto said that there are income restrictions regarding eligibility for the grants that are to be used to make home improvements. Applications from persons who are ineligible will not be considered and funds will be allocated at the discretion of the Municipality to those who qualify.

Council settles lot sale procedure

A procedure for the sale of municipal lots has been settled by Anson, Hindon and Minden Council. It is hoped that the same of some municipal lots will cover the cost of the Bailey Bridge installed while the Sunny-side bridge is being repaired.

Anyone wishing to purchase a municipal lot is to submit a letter to the clerk specifying the lot and the amount of the bid. Applicants have the right to ask for the amount of the highest offer.

Councillor Doug Pritchard objected that the bids should be sealed. Clerk Richard Parisotto said that the reason for the system devised was to create a competition. Councillor Bob Gorrie agreed that it was up to council to get the largest possible amount on behalf of the ratepayers. The bidding is open to all, and the land readily assessable, the clerk said.

The provisions outlined for the sale stated further that "the highest bid is not necessarily accepted." This was intended to indicate that the municipality is under no obligation to accept any bid.

Without the sale of municipal lots, funds for the Bailey bridge would have probably come from the equipment fund, which would have prevented the purchase of a typewriter and copier that the clerk felt were necessary.

At the meeting on October 12, the Board of Education was told by Director J.D. Hodgson that the two year position was with Armed Forces schools abroad. Teachers who request and are accepted for this leave of absence from the board by which they are employed are paid their regular salary by that board during their stay overseas. The Federal Government then reimburses the board for the total amount.

The Haliburton Board agreed to give Mr. Lerpiniere a leave of absence provided that satisfactory arrangements could be made for his return to the Haliburton Board at the end of the two years.

IN MEMORIAM

DAVIDSON - In cherished memory of a dear husband and father, David Davidson, whom God called home October 20th, 1973.

Sadly missed along life's way.
Quietly remembered every day.
No longer in our lives to share,
But in our hearts, you're always there.

Fondly remembered by wife Josephine and family.

In Memoriam

DAVIDSON - In loving memory of our dear brother, David, who passed away October 20th, 1973.

The rolling stream of life goes on
But still the vacant chair,
Recalls the love, the voice, the smile
Of the one who once sat there.
No length of time can dim the past
Too many memories hold it fast
As you were, you will always be Forever in our memories.

Ever remembered by five sisters, Annie, Rena, Sadie, Evelyn and Therna.

Report from Parliament

By William C. Scott M.P.

The recent resignation of Defence Minister James Richardson from the cabinet should serve as a warning to Canadians that all is not well with their government in Ottawa, or with their country.

Mr. Richardson cannot be considered as just another disenchanted Liberal, nor could he be put down as just another minister who couldn't stand the pressure of his office. His departure from the federal cabinet goes much deeper.

The real clue to the defence minister's resignation is contained in the first paragraph in Richardson's letter of resignation. He says, "It is time for someone to speak openly and frankly to Canadians about the danger to Canada of entrenching language rights in the Constitution under a Quebec veto."

Prime Minister Trudeau favours a plan for amending the Constitution that will include entrenchment of French in the Constitution on a level with English, with Quebec being given the right to veto any proposed amendment that might infringe on Quebec's language or cultural rights.

Richardson points out, and with good reason, that it would be a serious mistake to entrench French language rights in the Constitution before it can be determined whether or not bilingualism will work out. Indications are that bilingualism has already been proved to be unworkable, and this could be the main reason why Trudeau and Bourassa are so anxious to have French language rights inserted into the Constitution, where they will remain for all time.

If the Prime Minister has his way, the Canadian Constitution will be so inflexible that future Canadian governments will be forever faced with a one province veto of any amendment to our Constitution. It could end up as an instrument of blackmail, forcing a federal government to amend the Constitution only in ways that would suit a particular province.

Ontario would also be given the right of veto in the Trudeau plan, and I believe that this would also be a serious mistake, mainly because it is important not only to avoid giving one province such a dominant position over the provinces, but to avoid even the impression that any province has that power.

When this formula was approved at the Victoria Conference in 1971 it was thought that the federal government's bilingualism program had a fair chance of succeeding. However, the past five years have proven that the program isn't working anywhere in Canada, not even in Quebec, the province for which it was designed. Quebec has legislated French as the sole official language in that province.

Prime Minister Trudeau's preoccupation with bringing home our Constitution is based on two main principles, both of them self-serving, and therefore dangerous. One is to lock bilingualism into the Constitution for all time, while at the same time allowing Quebec to retrain French as the sole language for its own province and to veto any proposed changes in the Constitution relating to language or cultural matters.

The other is to divert attention from the serious economical, social and political problems in our country. Mr. Trudeau blames all our problems on the lack of acceptance in English Canada of bilingualism, and on the fact that our Constitution is in a vault in England. He doesn't explain why other prime ministers were able to govern under these same conditions.

Mr. Richardson's warning must be taken seriously for two reasons. Although a confirmed Liberal, he cannot any longer serve Trudeau as a cabinet minister. And, his political and personal integrity have always been above reproach. For those reasons alone he can and must be believed.

Big, bad winter

The 1976-1977 winter will be a big, bad one, with plenty of cold and snow. And by way of contrast, the summer of 1977 will be scorchingly hot.

The Farmers' Almanac is in its 160th consecutive year of publication and has been producing a special Canadian Edition, with a Canadian weather section for Victoria and Grey Trust Company since 1968.

Eighty-five thousand complimentary copies of the 1977 Edition are available to anyone interested in dropping into anyone of the many Victoria and Grey offices.

From the Chamber

by Bob Stinson

The official opening of PineStone Inn this week-end was a milestone in the development of our county. This new facility is not only a credit to the area but we expect it will help to boost the economy of all types of business here, since the convention business that is expected will introduce many new people to the Highlands. Sunday was "Media" day at PineStone and the owners went to considerable expense to bring in and entertain people from Radio, T.V., newspapers and magazines. Mr. Art Ward was good enough to invite the Chamber to participate and meet some of these people who we hope can generate some publicity for us. We noted that many of these people were not familiar with Haliburton prior to this trip. The day would have to be considered a success and an indication of many great things to come as a result of these gentlemen that had the foresight to make PineStone a reality.

Mr. Leo McCarthy advised us this week that the Federal Business Development Bank is preparing to run a Small Business Management Seminar for us at the PineStone Inn on Nov. 10th. The seminar will run from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. and lunch will be provided at $15.00 per person. All business people in the county can certainly benefit from the expertise of this organization.

The Kawartha Tourist Association are holding their annual meeting this week at the Rock Haven Hotel in Peterborough. They called to advise us that they will be holding a Seminar and panel discussion from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. on Thursday afternoon regarding the Ontario Government proposals for Property Tax Reform and that interested folks from our area were welcome to attend. Robert Weir, who drafted the proposals will be in attendance and the meeting should be worthwhile to anyone concerned with what this tax reform is going to do to business costs. A Smorgasbord Dinner is going to be served following the meeting at a total cost of $8.00 each.

The Ministry of Industry and Tourism are presently compiling information for the Henry Davis Travel Industry Trade Show to be held in Toronto on November 1st. All accommodation operators who have winter facilities and are willing to work through Travel Agents at a 10 per cent commission are urged to contact the ministry immediately. Write to the Travel Trade Section, Min. of Industry and Tourism, Hearst Block, 900 Bay Street, Toronto M7A 2E5, and advise them of how much accommodation you have available, what facilities you have or have access to, and your rates, including week-end packages etc.

The new board of Directors of the Chamber met for the first meeting last week and asked that president Dennis Weymouth, and Vice President Dennis Casey retain their offices for a second year. They agreed to do so, and this of course means that Bill Foote is now in his second year as Past President, forming the balance of the Management committee. This committee will be meeting next week to set up the working committees of the rest of the board.

The Chamber of Commerce applied early last summer to have a Canada Manpower office opened in Haliburton and we have just been advised that our application has been accepted and the office will be open as soon as a suitable location can be obtained and the staff of two hired. This office will not only be used to help locate jobs for people in need of work but will also be active in setting up retraining programmes that fit the needs of our community. We feel it's a giant step in the right direction.

We have one more location for the new phone books, Emmerson Lumber in Haliburton now has them on sale. Don't forget your tickets for the Elimination Draw-Dance, there are only 150 available and all directors have them on hand.

COMING EVENTS

October 23 - Minden Minor Hockey Dance - 9:00 p.m. at the Minden Community Centre - Live Band - Bar - Lunch - 8:00 per couple.
November 3 - Level One Referees Clinic - Haliburton Arena
November 10 - F.B.D.B. Seminar for Small Business Management - 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. - include luncheon - $15.00 each.

Expanded school curriculum

Education Minister Thomas Wells last week announced an expanded core curriculum for Ontario secondary school students.

Starting next September, grade 9 and 10 students will be required to take two credits in English, two in mathematics two in Canadian history and/or geography, and one credit in science. The new core, coupled with the existing requirements for two additional credits in English for senior students, means that the basic core curriculum will consist of nine mandatory courses, one third of the minimum credit requirements for the secondary school graduation diploma.

Mr. Wells said that the emphasis was being placed on the grade 9 and 10 level because "we believe that students in the first two years of secondary school need a greater degree of direction and guidance that students in the senior years."

"We believe that these required courses represent essential disciplines which all students must experience if they are to graduate from an Ontario secondary school."

"I believe that is some respects the pendulum of change in education all across North America swung a little too far during the 1960s. Today, in mandating a basic core of required subjects, we are easing the pendulum back to a more balanced position that will be to the advantage of the vast majority of students."

Mr. Wells said that the Ministry's curriculum guidelines for the mandatory core subjects will become much more comprehensive and of greater assistance to teachers. As an example English guidelines will be revised to ensure that every student receives a good grounding in essential communication skills, including the traditional concepts of English composition, grammar and literature. The same approach will be taken with Canadian history and geography, ensuring that every student is aware of Canada's identity, Canada's place in the world, together with a knowledge of how government in Canada's democratic society works.

Mathematics and science guidelines will also be revised to give teachers and others involved in curriculum planning more direction and more practical assistance.

Mr. Wells said the Ministry stands firm on its commitment to the young people and their parents that the secondary schools will serve all teenagers of Ontario, not just the academic elite. There will be no return to the rigid lock-step curriculum of previous years, which he said, caused many students to drop out of secondary school because they were unable to cope with a curriculum that "was geared to the cream of the crop who were headed for university."

The new requirements, he said, will ensure that all students receive a solid grounding in the essential basics of education, while at the same time allowing ample scope for a balanced selection of optional courses to provide a well rounded secondary school program.

Township receives $5,000

Lutterworth Township has been allocated a grant of $5,000 by the Ministry of Transportation and Communications to cover the costs of repairs to the Hunter Creek Road.

Lutterworth Reeve Patrick Conaghan received notice of the award of the funds last week. Application for the cost of the reconstruction of part of the road began only about two weeks ago, Reeve Conaghan said. Opposition to the request was expected.

The letter from the Minister said that a review of the overall Ministry budget has made possible the realignment of funds and will allow the allocation of subsidy for a number of projects for which funds could not be approved earlier in the year.

Formal approval of the allocation to Lutterworth is to follow.

Third straight loss

Last Thursday in Haliburton the Redmen lost their third game in a row. Lindsay played a strong defensive game in blanking Haliburton 19-0.

Haliburton was unable to finish their scoring plays, twice being stopped within the 10 yard line. The Lindsay coach said the game was much closer than the score indicated and featured some good hard hitting.

Lindsay scored all their touchdowns by a speedster named Wakely who was the offence of the team. Tackle Dan McKelvey was the defensive star of the game with Doug McNab the offensive star of the game gaining 110 yards in winning and pass receiving.

Larry Stinson also played a strong game on offence.

Tim Oram was missed on defence due to injuries which limited his usual effectiveness. Next Thursday Haliburton will be in Lindsay for a game with IE Weldon, which will be an important game to Haliburton, with hopes of making the playoffs.

LIP Grant

istrator said that it is hoped that the lagoon in Rotary Park will be developed to create a swimming area for Red Cross summer programs.

The L.I.P. grant must be spent on labour only, Reeve Booth explained. It must also be spent during limited months from November to June this year. People applying for work with the project must be registered with Canada Manpower.

$100 available to grade 8 students

A bursary of $100 will be available to all students graduating from the grade eight level in Haliburton County thanks to Mrs. Audrey Harris, who has instituted the bursary to be awarded each year that she continues to teach.

The award will probably take the form of a five year Victoria and Grey Bond given to the grade eight graduate who will be able to redeem the bond when he or she is ready to leave secondary school for higher education, a community college or university. A bank account has been opened for this purpose.

The bursary will be given each June on the basis of the student's needs, marks & contribution to school life. The selection committee is to be made up of the school principles and J.D. Hodgson the Director of Education.

The School Board was told at the meeting on October 12 that the arrangements have yet to be finally approved by Mrs. Harris.

Use okay for Dysart pound

Anson, Hindon and Minden will be able to use the Dysart dog pound.

Dysart council agreed that it would not be much of a problem to allow the neighboring municipality the use of the building.

Councillor Harold Bannon pointed out that it would sure help pay for the Dysart pound.

Reeve Murray Fearrey said that the council is quite prepared to help and it is now just a matter of working out an agreement.

Guilty of impaired driving

Arnold W. McDougall, of Main Street Stouffville, was tried before the Provincial Court in Minden on October 12 and was found guilty of impaired driving, driving while prohibited and with a breach of probation. He was given 30 days for impaired driving. He will also serve a 30 day concurrent sentence for breach of probation.

Guilty of impaired driving, Ian F. Minto of Minden will serve a 17 day intermittent sentence. He was also put on probation for 60 days with the injunction not to consume any alcohol.

Official Opening

The official presentation of the Thermography unit from 1WY - Peterborough Women's Committee and the Soroptimist's International of Peterborough to Peterborough Civic Hospital will take place on Oct. 21, at 5:00 p.m. in the Conference Room at the rear of the Cafeteria, first floor, Peterborough Civic Hospital.
